French Battle Strong Bands in Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — French troops today fought two strong Algerian nationalist bands in the third day of a seagull battle in the Moudania Mountains, 100 miles south of Constantine.

Fresh troops were brought up by helicopter as the French sought to dislodge the rebels entrenched among giant rocks in the wild terrain.

Both sides were known to have suffered losses, but French authorities said they were unable to get any immediate casualty figures.

There were no details on the progress of the fighting or the number of men involved.

Scattered reports of violence poured in from other parts of eastern Algeria, as belief grew in Paris that no negotiation is now possible with the inflamed rebels.

In Constantine, two rebels—who threw a grenade into a crowded barroom injuring four patrons—were lynched by an enraged crowd before police could reach them.

Fourteen rebels were killed in a clash with French troops in the northern part of Constantine Province near Oued Zenati.

Three miles west of Constantine an Algerian policeman was killed when rebels held up a bus.

In western Algeria, rebels ambushed a military convoy near Nedroman not far from the Moroccan border. Five French soldiers were killed and four wounded before the insurgents were driven off.

Meanwhile, two ships carrying several thousand fresh troops from France arrived in Oran.

More help for the French air force was dispatched yesterday as 34 planes left southern France en route to Algeria.

Meanwhile, Robert Lacoste, resident minister in Algeria, continued conferences with Cabinet officials in Paris.

Kefauver Says Adlai Is Desperate

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Ten.), touring New Jersey, charged Adlai Stevenson with talking nonsense now "in the manner of a man who is desperate."

He answered with harsh words of his own, a bitter barb tossed by Stevenson in Florida yesterday that Kefauver was threatening party unity.

Kefauver, who is on a five-day tour of the state in a bid for New Jersey's 36 Democratic Convention votes, called a special press conference in Patterson yesterday to get into the long distance verbal joust with Stevenson.

He charged Stevenson with mudslinging and said the former Illinois governor himself was pursuing a tack that would hurt the Democratic party.

As the battle for the Democratic presidential nomination got tough, Kefauver embarked on a second day's grueling 16-hour schedule from this South Jersey community.

He expressed satisfaction with the initial phase of his tour that took him to major cities, industrial areas, colleges and farming sections, in a wide sweep of the state yesterday.

It was a "good day," he commented.

Kefauver responded calmly, but with a touch of bitterness, to Stevenson's further charge that Kefauver had been absent from the Senate when votes were taken on a number of vital measures.

He called on Stevenson to stop engaging "in mudslinging." He said it was out of character and added he hoped Stevenson "finds it within himself to get back into character."

As for himself, Kefauver said, "I intend to conduct my campaign as I have in the past and I'm not going to engage in personalities and mudslinging. We'll turn the other cheek."

"I think people want the issues discussed and I intend to discuss them."

Kefauver, who likes to meet a lot of local people on his tours, said at an after breakfast press confab in Newark that Stevenson was throwing mud by making fun of his bent for handshaking. Kefauver also said Stevenson had accused him of saying different things in different parts of the country.

Electrocuted Setting Up a TV Antenna

SEARCY, (AP) — A 57-year-old merchant was electrocuted here yesterday while installing a television antenna on the roof of his home.

The victim was Martin Luther Hughes, operator of a business at the nearby Letona community.

25 TIMES A HEART VICTIM—Only seven years old, Sheila Whitehead has just undergone surgery for her 25th heart attack in New Albany, Ind. Physicians say chances are good Sheila will survive this latest heart failure, but they offer little hope of a permanent cure for the periodic attacks. An acute infection in another part of her body causes the succession of attacks. She is shown above holding tube from oxygen tank while recovering from a previous attack.

Murder Trial Underway in Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, (AP) — The death of 14-year-old Martha Jackson was a "crime of passion," prompted by "panic and fright," said the attorney for William A. Downen here today.

Downen is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his stepdaughter Oct. 5. Her body was recovered from an abandoned well Oct. 15.

Earl Lane, attorney for Downen, said the 28-year-old factory worker turned on his stepdaughter in front of their rural home after she "cursed" him for not asking the family to the Arkansas Livestock Show.

Coroner D. C. Lee testified that the girl died of a skull fracture. The body of the girl was weighed in the well with a 48-pound concrete block, said Sheriff Leonard Ellis.

He said that Downen, who led police to the well, told him that he "threw a rock about the size of a cigar box" at the girl. Ellis estimated that the rock weighed five pounds.

Ellis testified that Downen told him he hit the girl with a rock, took her body in his pickup truck to an area near an abandoned well, carried the body up a hill and dumped it in the well after weighing it. The concrete block was attached to the body with a wire, Ellis said.

Downen has pleaded innocent to first degree murder.

Prosecutor H. A. Tucker is seeking the death penalty.

The 12th member of the jury was selected today. The panel is composed of nine men and three women. Eleven jurors were chosen yesterday when the trial opened in Garland Circuit Court. A regular jury panel and special panels—a total of 58 persons—were examined before the jury was completed.

Before Lane's opening statement, in which he said the girl's death was the result of "panic and fright," no motive for the slaying was advanced.

The Downens lived at Ragwood Valley, a rural community near Hot Springs.

37.2 Million in U. S. Schools

WASHINGTON, (UP) — The Commerce Department reported today there are about 37.2 million students enrolled in the nation's schools and colleges—an increase of seven million in the last five years.

Kindergarten enrollment increased by 82 per cent—partly because more parents decided to take advantage of the privilege, the department said.

Enrollment in elementary schools rose 24 per cent and high school enrollment increased 19 per cent. The rate of college enrollment fell off in the early 1950's but has picked up again and is now above the 1950 level.

The report showed that 1.6 million children were enrolled in kindergarten. Those going to elementary schools totaled 25.4 million, while high school attendance had climbed to 7 million.

The department said its survey showed 2,379,000 (M) college students but the office of education reported a total of 2,695,340. The department said the discrepancy may have been due to differences in collecting data.

The department also reported that enrollment in private schools increased about twice as fast as in public schools.

Margaret's Beau Picks Best Man

NEW YORK (AP)—A North Carolina boyhood chum will be best man for newspaperman Clifton Daniel, who marries Margaret Truman April 21.

Daniel yesterday selected John Knowlton Barrow of Ahoskie, N. C., as best man. Barrow, a lumber mill operator, grew up with Daniel in childhood, N. C., and was his roommate and fraternity brother at the University of North Carolina.

Ushers at the ceremony, Daniel said, will be Managing Editor Turner Catledge of the New York Times, and George Baker, a former president and editor of the New York Post. Daniel is assistant to the foreign editor of the Times.

Mid-South Gas Hike Before Utility Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission sought today to determine a rate base for the Mid-South Gas Co., which serves 40,000 customers in east Arkansas.

A rate base never has been fixed for Mid-South, founded five years ago to take over the gas distribution properties once held by Arkansas Power & Light Co. AP&L was ordered to get out of the natural gas business by the federal Securities and Exchange Commission.

At a brief hearing yesterday, officials of Mid-South suggested $13,650,000 as a proper rate base. The PSC then took the case under consideration.

A utility's rate base is calculated on the value of all property "used and useful" in its operations. The PSC uses this base to figure the utility's allowable rate of return—traditionally six per cent annually.

Mid-South never has applied any dividends. All profits have been reinvested in the business. Company officials assured the PSC that they have no plans to seek a rate increase immediately.

The company serves a large number of cities and towns. Including McGehee, Arkansas City, Helena, Florist City, Brinkley, West Memphis, Marion, Marked Tree, Newport and Jonesboro.

Lower Freight on Gypsum Sought

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lower freight rates on gypsum produced in Arkansas will be sought by a group of south Arkansians.

A 3-member delegation, headed by Vernon B. Lewis, operator of Arkansas Gypsum Co. at Highland in Pike County, conferred with Gov. Orval Faubus and other state officials about the plan here yesterday.

Lewis told newsmen he wants the rate in Arkansas lowered to match the charge in neighboring states. He predicted the railroads would comply.

Accompanying Lewis to Little Rock were D. K. Bemis of Prescott, vice president of the Prescott and Northwestern Railroad; O. W. Watkins, the line's general manager; and Olen Hendrix, Antoine banker. The Prescott and Northwestern hauls gypsum from south Arkansas mines to junctions with trunk railroads.

Gypsum is used in manufacturing cement.

Grounded Pidgeon Walks Back Home

VISTA, Calif. (AP) — A homing pigeon that couldn't fly walked home, says a boy who had traded him off.

Rickie Hill, 13, traded the bird to Dale Auvil, 13, for a parakeet, a week ago.

Dale clipped the bird's wing, to keep him around until he adjusted.

He arrived back at Rickie's three days later, footsore and bedraggled from the three-mile hike.

Nylons Run 'Wild', Reason Is Sought

CHICAGO, (UP)—The head of Chicago's "nylon patrol" tried to discover today why stockings are running wild in the city.

It's a tricky business because Edmund Kosciuch often has to inspect the stocking while they are on the hoof.

Kosciuch is combustion engineer for the city air pollution department. He became chief of the "nylon patrol" when stockings began popping and running wild with abandon in an area west of the loop this week.

The great stocking stampede began Tuesday at the Sterling Products, Inc., plant.

The girls turned up to work with well-worn stockings. One said "I've got a run." Another said "I've got six."

The epidemic spread over the legs of 17 women and even nylon underwear was not immune.

Since then, stockings have run wild in offices throughout the region and there's no end in sight. About 40 women have looked down to find their stockings in shreds.

Kosciuch was assigned to investigate every angle of the stocking mystery. He admitted it's nice work.

"All I've done is look at girls' legs," he said. "Shapely legs, skinny legs, stout legs—all kinds."

"I've looked at stockings under the microscope, in the test tube, and on the hoof."

"Maybe I should be paying the city."

Kosciuch said as many as 17 runs have zipped down a woman's hose in a few minutes. Other women have reported holes the size of quarters in stockings which are supposed to be run-proof.

There are various possible explanations, he said. Maybe the runs are caused by dust or acid particles blown into Chicago by strong west winds early this week. Maybe some kind of sulphuric acid fumes are getting into the office.

Kosciuch's big worry is whether his wife understands his assignment is strictly in the line of duty.

"We've been married about two years," he said. "It's the first test of her tolerance."

AEA Is Voting on Nine New Officials

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Members of the Arkansas Education Association voted today in a runoff election to select a president, a vice president and seven board members.

Results of the balloting in the 19 district meetings throughout the state will be announced tomorrow.

Runoff candidates for president were Supt. R. B. Chittwood of Lake Village, and Supl. Garner A. Stubbfield of El Dorado.

Don Blackmon of Dell and Mrs. Carolyn Elms of Arkadelphia were vice presidential candidates.

The secretary's position was decided at the preferential primary election when Miss Amy Jean Greene of Arkadelphia received a majority.

The treasurer will be named by the new board.

In today's balloting, candidates for board member-at-large were Chris Corbin of Fort Smith and Mrs. Helen Henderson of Imboden.

Other board candidates are Mrs. Sammie Hooper Carpenter of Russellville, District 9; Ralph Duggs of Rison and Curtis Love of Hot Springs, District 8; and James H. Hutchinson of Monticello and S. P. Portis of Hamburg, District 1.

Unopposed candidates were Lyle Bruce of Malvern, District 7; Boyd Johnson of Green Forest, District 12; and Terrell E. Powell of Little Rock, District 19.

The board is composed of 19 district members, three members-at-large and the four officers. One-third of the board membership is elected each year.

U. S. Action on Baghdad Pact Is Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A limited increase in American support for the Baghdad Pact seemed likely today to disappoint both its strong backers and its bitter critics in the Middle East.

The State Department announced late yesterday that the United States would send a high level delegation to a meeting of the pact council in Tehran, Iran April 16-20. The delegation will be headed by Deputy Undersecretary of State Loy W. Henderson, a former ambassador to Iran and now one of the chief officials in the State Department.

The action was decided on by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles primarily to reassure the members of the anti-Communist Defense Alliance that the United States is interested in their organization and fully supports its objectives, officials said.

Previous observer groups were constituted at a much lower official level.

The members of the organization are Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan.

Britain has been foremost among these in pressing the United States privately to become a member. The decision to continue the observer status, even with higher ranking officials, is therefore expected to be a disappointment to London and may bring British criticism that while the U.S. step is in the right direction it does not go far enough.

Four Gunmen Rob Bank of $75,000

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Four gunmen held up the East Side branch of the Citizens' Bank shortly after 11 a. m. today and methodically looted it of an estimated $75,000.

Bank officials said the loot might run heavier because the bank had an unusually heavy amount of money on hand today since it is payday in many businesses.

There was no shooting as the four bandits, wearing stocking masks, took less than five minutes for the robbery. Two of them stood guard at the door of the bank as the other two climbed over a teller's cage and stuffed the money into a bag.

The robbery was staged less than four hours after Joseph Posey of Cleveland, a suspected bank robber, broke loose from the Flint City jail but state police expressed doubt that Posey was involved in today's robbery.

Columbia Pictures and Rita Agree

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Rita Hayworth and Columbia Pictures Corp. have agreed to terms of a settlement which will end their lengthy litigation, a studio spokesman announced.

Miss Hayworth will make two more pictures for Columbia under the settlement, the spokesman said.

The actress recently lost her suit against the studio for breach of contract. She had claimed Columbia owed her $75,000 on the $150,000 she was to receive for "Joseph and His Brethren."

"She walked out on the picture, claiming shooting was unnecessarily delayed."

Parole Board Not to Meet at Prison

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state board of pardons and paroles is dropping its practice of meeting at the penitentiary after holding two sessions at Cummins Prison Farm.

Parole Officer W. P. Ball said yesterday the board would return to its previous policy of meeting in Little Rock.

The board met at Cummins so members could interview applicants for parole and clemency. Ball said that under a new plan, two board members each month will interview prisoners and report to the full board.

FISHERMEN'S PARADISE

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—While the fish — and the water — last in Orange Lake, it's paradise for fishermen. All restrictions are off.

Jim Reed, education officer of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish commission, said fish are dying from lack of oxygen in the diminishing waters of the lake in north-central Florida. It is eight feet below normal level.

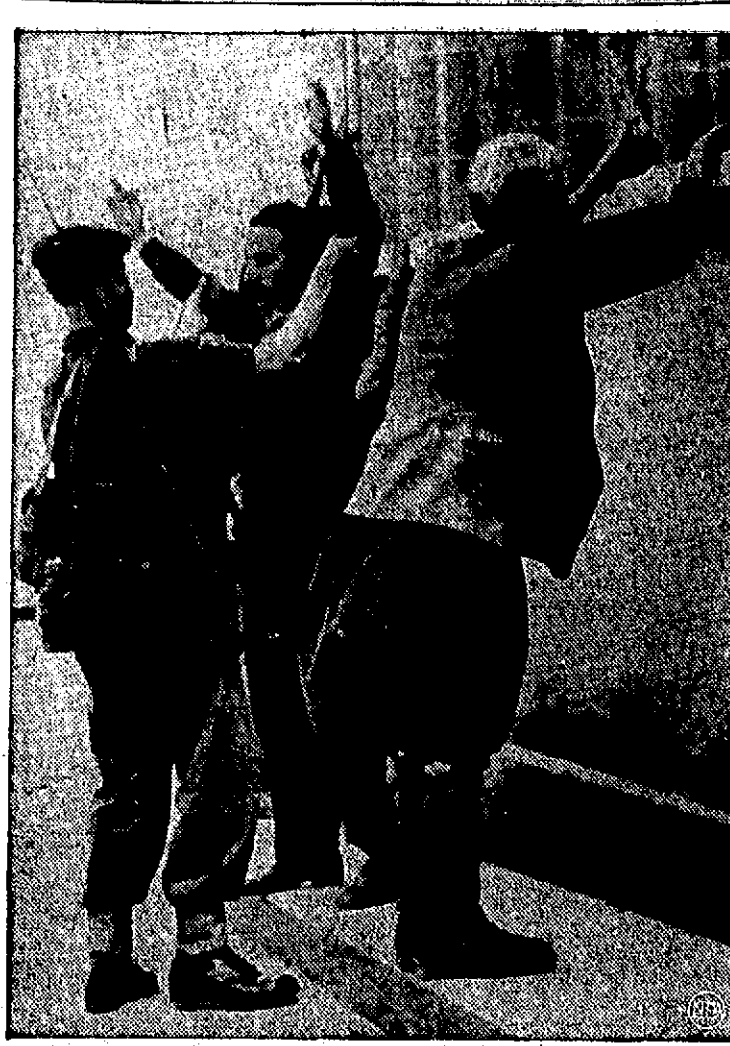

In two weeks since the bag limit was taken off 100,000 pounds have been caught with hook and line. Ninety per cent of it was blue gill bream.

TV Marriage Okay But Not Real One

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jeff Donnell, happily married on television to comedian George Gobel, says her real life marriage to actor Aldo Ray is on the rocks.

The actress said yesterday Ray left their home March 27. "I'll file for divorce this time," Miss Donnell said.

They were married Sept. 30, 1954 and separated the first time last summer. She and Ray reconciled just before Christmas.

Jurors to Halt Tax Scandal Hearing

ST. LOUIS (AP) — U. S. District Judge George H. Moore has agreed with U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell — the federal grand jury here will halt its inquiry into tax scandals until after a pending trial.

Matthew Connelly, appointments secretary to President Truman, Theron Lamar Caudle, then head of the Justice Department's tax division, and Harry I. Schwimmer, former Kansas City lawyer, are scheduled for trial May 7. They are charged with conspiring to defraud the government.

Brownell, in a letter to Judge Moore Tuesday, rejected a plea by the grand jurors to remain in session. He said their hearings receive publicity which might create bias and prevent a fair trial.

Clear Week Predicted by Weatherman

By United Press
Heavy rains fell across the southern half of Arkansas last night but the weatherman sounded the "all clear" for the week-end.

The forecast said it would be generally fair through Sunday, colder tonight and Saturday but mild again Sunday.

It will continue pleasantly warm this afternoon, with highs in the mid to high 70s in the central, northeast and northwest portions, and in the high 70s in the southeast and southwest.

Lows tonight are expected to be in the 30s in the northwest, in the high 30s to mid 40s in the northeast in the low to mid 40s in the central in the 40s in the southwest, and in the high 40s in the southeast.

The extended forecast, "Friday through Wednesday, said temperatures would average two to six degrees above the normal minimum of 50 degrees. It is expected to be cooler Saturday and again about next Tuesday.

Precipitation for the period will be moderate to locally heavy with scattered thundershowers about Sunday.

Pine Bluff had 1.91 inches of rain for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. El Dorado and Little Rock 1.47, Camden 1.30, Newport 1.23, and Arkadelphia 1.1 inch.

Lows this morning ranged from 43 at Fayetteville to 55 at Little Rock and yesterday's highs from 66 at El Dorado to 80 at Gilbert.

At mid-morning, the skies were clear throughout the state, and temperatures were 69 at Walnut Ridge, El Dorado and Little Rock, and 70 at Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Texarkana and Pine Bluff, and 72 at Flippin.

Five Boys in Deep Trouble With the Law

By United Press
Five boys were in deep trouble with the law today. Three of them are killers.

At Wheeling, W. Va., 14-year-old Tommy Williams appeared more interested in chewing bubble gum than in his future as a convicted murderer. A jury yesterday found him guilty of murdering a 9-year-old cub scout to death.

A judge set a May 7 trial date in Chicago for 12-year-old Rudolph Diaz, the youngest murder defendant in Cook County history.

Another Chicago boy, 16-year-old David Smith, was arraigned on charges of killing a restaurant owner because he couldn't get a third cup of coffee.

Elsewhere, a 7-year-old boy told New York police he set the factory fire which killed six firemen and injured 14 others Wednesday night. But the lad was released when police discovered the "confession" was pure make believe.

Near Orangeburg, S. C., a sheriff and 10 deputies tracked down a teen-aged Negro boy with bloodhounds and arrested him on charges of raping a 16-year-old white girl.

In Tommy Williams' case, the final outcome of his fate depends on whether his attorney's demand for a new trial is granted.

The boy, an identical twin, does not deny luring a playmate to a cellar and beating in his head in hope of robbing him of $15. The only issue is whether Tommy is sane or should be sent to a mental institution.

Rudolph Diaz is also accused of killing a playmate. He admits he killed 11-year-old Anthony Brown in a switchblade knife fight.

The other juvenile killer David Smith has confessed he killed Carl Nordmeyer, 62, with four pistol bullets March 1. At the arraignment yesterday his grieving father, an accountant, said "In my heart, I still can't believe it."

Meanwhile, teen-age boys were disturbing the peace in a big way in Washington, D. C.

It's cherry blossom time in Washington and the city is packed with tourists. The boys spend their days running in and out of hotels and their nights shouting and running up and down hotel corridors.

A hotel manager reported sadly "they never sleep."

Airlift Keeping Horse Alive

GUNNISON, Colo. (UP) — A horse called "Elijah" probably will be kicking up his heels every time he spots a plane if he survives the snow and cold of Colorado's Collegiate mountain range.

Gordon Warren, operator of Western State Aviation Service here, and one of his pilots, Wallace Powell, have been airlifting hay to Elijah since Powell spotted him last month trapped between 14,399-foot Mt. Harvard and 14,172-foot Mt. Yale.

The operation is being financed by Mayor Ben Jorgenson, who said the twice-a-week flights "feed the trapped horse would continue as long as the animal is unable to make his way to safety."

That will be when the snow melts in the higher mountains, which may take until June.

Democrats Urge Quick Passage of Farm Bill

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats spokesmen called today for quick passage of the completed compromise farm bill while President Eisenhower took a new look at its provisions.

Eisenhower called Secretary of Agriculture Benson to the White House for a conference which could chart a new administration effort to get a bill more to their liking.

Such an effort, however, would require a new battle in the Senate or the House to force revision of the bill on which a Senate-House conference committee completed action late yesterday.

The House vote, probably on Wednesday, will provide the first test.

Both Sen. Ellender (D-La.) and Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairmen of the two houses' agriculture committees, predicted quick approval in Congress. They'll put it up to Eisenhower on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, Ellender said. Eisenhower "takes it or there is no farm bill this session."

But Cooley said he was "a little bit apprehensive" that House Republicans may try to force some changes before the measure goes to Eisenhower.

The bill would establish the soil bank Eisenhower

Distorted 'Life' Article Attacked

HOMER, La. (U)—The Claiborne Parish School Board today made public a resolution attacking Time and Life magazines for what it called "biased and distorted" views of segregation in the South. The resolution, adopted unanimously, directed school Supt. R. C. Haley to cancel subscriptions of the rural north Louisiana parish. Haley said the resolution took the view that "Time and Life" articles, on segregation, "although represented as impartial, are actually partisan, prejudiced and destructive to our way of life, and as a result it is practically impossible for any school child to review these pictures and articles without receiving a warped impression of the South."

Haley said he is a member of a White Citizens Council group but did not know about board members.

Homer formed one of the first counties in Louisiana dedicated to upholding Southern traditions of separation of the races.

Adlai Group Laying in Wait for Kefauver

By The Associated Press

The Kefauver campaign rolled into New Jersey today as Stevenson supporters lay in wait there with a plan to elect a slate of unpledged delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Backers of Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination were active also in Illinois and California, the scenes of two other upcoming primaries. Sen. Estes Kefauver, who opens a five-day barnstorming tour of New Jersey today, said in Omaha, Neb., yesterday he feels Stevenson is "still out in front" in the race for the presidential nomination.

But the Tennesseean expressed the opinion he is in better position to win convention delegates than he was four years ago, when Stevenson captured the nomination. "And," he added, "I am on better terms with more of the political leaders than I was then."

Stevenson, who was ousted by Kefauver in the Minnesota primary March 20, said in Kingsland, Ga., yesterday he is optimistic about winning in the Florida primary May 29 — his next major head-on test against Kefauver.

Stevenson, who drops down to Jacksonville, Fla., for a speech today, voiced the hope he would get full support from Southern delegations to the Democratic convention in Chicago. "I am inclined to believe I will," he added in a copyrighted interview with M. L. St. John, political editor of the

Stevenson said that "If the South left the Democratic party" over the civil rights issue the party would lose the election this year and "would be injured for years to come."

The former Illinois governor who carried the Democrats' 1932 standard in a losing cause, is not entered in the New Jersey primary on April 17. But his backers there have started a campaign to induce Democrats to support the regular Democratic organization delegate slate, headed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

discussed, and it was voted to ask that the sermon be preached by Gladwin Connell, a senior student who will prepare for the ministry in the Methodist Church.

A city-wide religious census was scheduled early in September. It was voted to meet monthly during the summer.

The secretary and president were asked to write letters of appreciation to all groups who helped to make our simultaneous revival services a blessing in the life of the community. The date for the 1957 revivals was set for April 7-14 next year. Prayers were offered by Joe Calabrese and Seldon Blackburn.

Rain Threat Hurts Cherry Festival

WASHINGTON (U)—Clouds and a threat of rain put a mild damper on the Cherry Blossom Festival in the nation's capital today but the thousands of visitors didn't let it interfere too much.

The highlight event — tonight's selection and crowning of the queen of the annual festival — had weather insurance. It will be held indoors at the Sheraton Park Hotel.

Police estimated that 30,000 persons drove yesterday over the circling course around the tidal basin where the yearly display of blossoms was at its height of perfection. Another estimated 15,000 walked in the warm spring sun for a closer view of the famous Japanese trees.

Parker and other relatives.

Mrs. Frank Gilbert and Miss Joan Gilbert were Tuesday visitors in Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gray Jr., returned Tuesday night from Newport where they accompanied Mrs. C. R. Gray who has been their guest.

—Mr. and Mrs. Theo Elgin have had as their guests Mrs. Lucille Elgin and Miss Bonnie Elgin of Texarkana.

U. S. Envoy to Russia Is Called Home

WASHINGTON (U)—Ambassador Charles (Chip) Bohlen has been ordered to return to Washington from his Moscow post for consultation.

The State Department announced that Bohlen, now on vacation in Austria, is expected in Washington sometime this week-end.

The announcement said Bohlen will remain a week or 10 days and then return to Moscow.

Department Press Officer Lincoln White said he expects Bohlen will talk over with officials here the new Soviet line of downgrading the memory of Josef Stalin.

DOROTHY DIX

Moral Defects Can Be Worse Than Physical Handicaps

Dear Miss Dix: I am a private secretary, just past 50. My boss is an executive of a large corporation, 15 years my senior, a bachelor, well thought of in the community and a member of several clubs. He has frequently visited at my home; my folks think a lot of him. He is always kind, considerate and a perfect gentleman.

Recently he has asked me to go to dinner with him, or visit mutual friends. I have refused, since he is slightly lame and uses a cane. I can't quite see myself in the role of martyr. How can I tell him of my feelings tactfully?

Answer: Refuse a few invitations and the gentleman won't be long catching on. The handicapped are notoriously sensitive.

Actually, he is less handicapped than you. His is merely a slight crippling of a limb; you have a severe moral maladjustment. Nothing short of perfection is good enough for you. If character defects were as obvious as physical ones, the man would be ashamed to be seen with you.

Most women would be quite proud to have the friendship of so fine a man and would feel anything but martyred at his invitations. Your sense of values needs a slight revision.

Lost Relatives
Dear Miss Dix: My husband was taken from an orphanage when he was four and raised, thereafter, by several foster families. He has no idea who his parents were, but had two sisters in the orphanage. He recently got in touch with one sister, but the whereabouts of the other is unknown. The identity of his parents has bothered him a lot. How could we learn something about them?

MRS. G. K.
Answer: Any existing information would be available at the orphanage from which he was placed in foster homes. If they have no knowledge of your husband's family, it must be presumed there is none.

Digging into a personal past is seldom rewarding. Use your efforts and ask your clergyman to cooperate in having your husband give up this futile idea and concentrate on making the present and future productive.

Dear Miss Dix: My boy friend is in the Navy and wants to send money home to me so I can bank it — in his name, of course. Do you think this is proper?

Answer: If his folks and your agree to it. Otherwise the action might be misinterpreted.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a single girl living with my parents. Recently I met a very attractive man, somewhat older than I, and have grown extremely fond of him. He is going with a widow who has three children, and he says the only reason he seeks her company is because he's very fond of the youngsters. He takes me out quite frequently, but that's all the encouragement I get.

Answer: Well, at least he offers an original excuse for dodging marriage. Wonder what his story to the widow is? Any man who sincerely loved children would marry and raise his own.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm going steady with a very nice boy, but my older sister always has comments on the way his mother dresses. My sister prides herself on her ability to wear clothes. I admit my boy friend's mother doesn't have taste, but she's a very nice woman, nevertheless. I do get hurt at my sister's remarks.

DOLLY
Answer: Charly, they say, covers a multitude of sins, but tolerance wipes lots of them away. Your sister certainly could do with a big dab of it. For each fault she finds, you pick out a virtue to compliment. Her criticisms won't get far on that basis.

Thought For The Day

Nothing is impossible; there are ways that lead to everything, and we had sufficient will we should always have sufficient means. — It is often merely for an excuse that we say things are impossible. — Rochefoucauld said it.

Exchange Student

Guest At Yenger

H. C. Yenger High School had as guests Tuesday morning, April 3, Miss Kaj Landskag from Stockholm, Sweden, who was accompanied by Superintendent J. H. Jones and Don Roberts, a senior from Hope High School. Miss Landskag, an exchange student from Sweden, spoke to the student body during activity period. Her well received speech was very interesting and informative and was enjoyed by all. A portion of the period was used for answering questions asked by the students pertaining to varied customs of her country. The contrast with our country was great. We wish Miss Landskag much success during her stay in America.

Macedonia Jr. High School To Stage Play

The Macedonia Jr. High School will present its annual play entitled "Public Opinion Versus Youth" on April 13, 1956 at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The play has a Mock Trial setting. The following characters are represented: Judge—Doris Moore; Prosecutor—Roberts Trotter, Jr.; Defense Attorney—Iris Cheatham; Sheriff—Leaury Cheatham; Prosecution's witnesses—Marie Flowers, Grace Witherspoon; Sandifer Adams, Mary Shaw, Dorothy Moore; Defense witnesses—Harry Cheatham, Settle Cole, Thelma Jean Moore, Chester Cheatham; The jury is to be selected from community patrons.

Cost of the play: The learned prosecutor with his witnesses will endeavor to prove that the members of the senior class have not been allowed to graduate. However, the defense attorney leaves no stone unturned in the defense of the youth.

The jury's decision will settle the case.

This is promising to be both educational and entertaining. Admission: Adults, 25c; Student, 15c.

Paper Firm Seeking Pine Bluff Site

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—International Paper Co. is considering a site near Pine Bluff for a new mill, it was reported today by the Arkansas Democrat.

Officials of the firm at New York declined to comment on reports that International sent a survey team to the site last weekend, the Democrat said.

The Democrat said the prospective mill site is south of Pine Bluff and west of the Arkansas River near Fairfield on Highway 65. International operates a paper mill at Camden, Ark.

Thought For The Day

Nothing is impossible; there are ways that lead to everything, and we had sufficient will we should always have sufficient means. — It is often merely for an excuse that we say things are impossible. — Rochefoucauld said it.

Exchange Student

Guest At Yenger

H. C. Yenger High School had as guests Tuesday morning, April 3, Miss Kaj Landskag from Stockholm, Sweden, who was accompanied by Superintendent J. H. Jones and Don Roberts, a senior from Hope High School. Miss Landskag, an exchange student from Sweden, spoke to the student body during activity period. Her well received speech was very interesting and informative and was enjoyed by all. A portion of the period was used for answering questions asked by the students pertaining to varied customs of her country. The contrast with our country was great. We wish Miss Landskag much success during her stay in America.

NEW RUSSIAN JET—These recognition drawings, published in the Navy's official Aviation News, show three views of Russia's sleek Flashlight, a swept-wing, dual-placed all-weather jet fighter. Underwing nacelles, a large, round, solid nose and a large swept, vertical stabilizer are distinctive characteristics.

Chapter XXXVI

The car stopped off the dirt road. A man ran toward it.

"The two boys are covered on the rear floor. The man and woman are in the trunk," Ketty answered.

The man snapped the trunk lid open and assisted Mike and Lisa out. They both reeled dizzily. Ketty uncovered the boys and they ran to their mother.

"I am meletia," the man said. "I am to take you to the rendezvous. Are you all right?"

Mike and Lisa grasped his hands.

"Yes, we will be in a minute—soon's we get some air," Mike went to Ketty. "I'll always be in your debt," he said.

"Anything for the Englezes," Ketty answered. "I'm glad you came to me for help."

"Come," Meletis snapped. "We have an hour's walk and there is no time for farewells. Did you have trouble along the route?"

"There was but one challenge," Ketty said. "But I have a pass signed by Herr Heilser, himself."

The German captain signaled to his men and back to Heilser. Everything was in order. All eyes were on the southern end of it cove. All one could hear was the gentle lap of the sea against the shore and the rustle of the leaves around them.

Chesney nudged Heilser and pointed toward the top of the hill behind them. A light shot out toward the water. It went on and off three times. Heilser's heart thudded.
